

Covenant Baptist Church

Reformed and Refreshing

June 27th, 2021

Welcome to Covenant Baptist Church. We are a Reformed church committed to three things:

- The Exaltation of God

We desire that the people at Covenant truly understand who God is and His rightful place in their lives as their Lord and sovereign Savior.

- The Edification of the Saints

We consider it extremely important to correctly teach the Bible, verse by verse, so we can properly have the Holy Spirit apply it to our lives.

- The Evangelization of the Sinner

We understand that God has given us the responsibility to be stewards of the Gospel and that means sharing it exactly like God gave it to us with those who need Jesus.

Announcements

Pray for fruit and souls to be saved from the preaching, gospel conversations, and tracts given, at the Pride event in Rock Hill. Men from Covenant and Grace Covenant in Rock Hill went yesterday for evangelism. May God be glorified in the salvation of sinners.

We have received $67,599 since January toward paying the mortgage down. Thanks to your generosity a check for $67,599 will be made toward the principal balance. This means that we will now only owe $55,087.49. Praise the Lord! We are on track to pay this building off in 4 years.

We are grateful to announce that Covenant Baptist, along with Dixiana Baptist and other sister churches, will be paying for Noel in Kenya for 3 years of Seminary so he can pastor a church in Kenya. He will be housed in Nairobi Kenya along with his family and will attend seminary there. Noel was a South Sudan pastor who nearly lost his life for standing up and speaking out against the injustice of the slaughter of innocent family members.

Plan to attend the G3 Conference in the Fall. This is a great conference and well worth the time and money. Go to <https://g3min.org/> to register. The dates are Sept 30 - Oct, 2, 2021 in Atlanta GA. The Topic is “Christ is Supreme over All” —

Please continue to pray for supporters for 9 girls in the orphanage in Guntur, India that have not as of yet received the $41 per month support. Everything has been going well with the boys and the girls orphanages with this exception. Thank you all for the help that you have given to bring these children off the streets of India. Please see Alton for more details, or sign up to support an orphan on the blue pad on the foyer table.

Covenant Baptist Church Events

Greek Class—On hold

Biblical Counseling Class—On hold

Second Sunday Dinner—July 11th. Please plan to bring a dish to share and stay for the fellowship. Also remember that we usually have visitors who stay for the meal, and you are encouraged to bring more than a small side dish so that there is plenty to go around.

Book of the Week: Who Is Jesus?, by R. C. Sproul

No person in history has provoked such widely divergent assessments as Jesus of Nazareth. Some say He was a cunning fraud, while others say He must have been out of His mind. In many cases His story is altered to suit the fancies of those seeking to make Him an ally for a host of militant causes.

However, as Dr. R.C. Sproul points out in this Crucial Questions booklet, there is compelling evidence that Jesus was something more—that He was, in fact, God in the flesh. By wrestling with the biblical titles for Jesus and the accounts of His life and ministry, Dr. Sproul unfolds the scriptural portrait of Jesus, the Son of God.

Critical Race Theory is a “Demonic Ideology,” Says Renowned Pastor Voddie Baucham (Transcript)

—by Todd Starnes and Voddie Baucham

TODD: [01:22:15] Well, we’re glad you’re doing better. You look great. And we’re glad you’re back in the fight because there is a war and the culture like I have never seen. And at the center of all of this is critical race theory. And you write about that. You talk about that extensively. How dangerous is this to to America?

BAUCHAM: [01:22:36] It’s incredibly dangerous. It’s a destructive ideology. It’s a divisive ideology. It’s an ideology that’s built on the idea, you know, of the oppressor, oppressed paradigm of all these Marxist critical theories. But this oppressor oppressed paradigm, you know, divides people based on race and ethnicity and says that white people, by virtue of their whiteness, are guilty and they’re guilty because America, by virtue of its whiteness and Americanness, is guilty and that all other people are really victims of that oppression. So it’s inherently divisive.

TODD: [01:23:18] And that’s an interesting and important distinction as well, because you’re right, it portrays one group as the oppressors and the other as those being the oppressed. And it’s got to be offensive to both sides.

BAUCHAM: [01:23:30] And I ought to be. But people who ought to be offended by it instead are not being offended by it because this is all about power. You know, all of the critical theories, whether it’s critical pedagogy or, you know, critical theory writ large, critical race theory, whatever all of these are about, not only using that oppressor oppressed paradigm, but working toward the revolutionary overthrow of whatever that oppressor is and about a transfer of power. So instead of people being offended by this, they hold on to it because it promises power.

TODD: [01:24:13] What do you make of, for example, the Southern Baptist Convention? They couldn’t even bring themselves to condemn that critical race theory by name. And it’s almost as if you have a lot of these white pastors out there that are they’re tiptoeing around the issue or they’re buying into this, that we should have some sort of a repentant service if you are a person born of the Caucasian persuasion.

BAUCHAM: [01:24:36] Yeah. And, you know, I don’t think that was as much about buying in as it was about really white guilt and cowardice. If I can just, you know, put a fine point on it.

TODD: [01:24:47] You think it was cowardice, you know, white guilt?

BAUCHAM: [01:24:49] Yeah, I think I think it was it was obvious building up to the convention that the issue at hand was Resolution nine on critical race theory and intersectionality from two years ago at the convention and how that was going to be responded to. And when you respond to that with a resolution that refuses to even name critical race theory and intersectionality, that’s an act of cowardice.

TODD: [01:25:22] Where does the where does the American church go from here? Because. We’re talking the Southern Baptist largest Protestant denomination in America. You know, if they’re going to buy into this or that’s maybe a bad word to use. But if they’re going to if they’re going to, you know, have this white guilt, you know, where do you go from here?

BAUCHAM: [01:25:40] Well, I think we continue to press the issue. I think we continue to name this for what it is. I think we continue to expose the tenets of this ideology. I think we continue to demonstrate the fact that it is antithetical to biblical truth, which ironically, in the resolution that passed, they they said that, right? They they identified the fact that this is an issue of biblical ideology versus, you know, a counter ideology. But they refused to name the ideology. We got to name it.

TODD: [01:26:17] And you actually, in previous interviews have called it demonic ideology.

BAUCHAM: Yeah, it is a demonic ideology because, again, it is antithetical to biblical truth. In fact, one of the things about, you know, critical theory, critical social justice and all of these things, the hegemonic power at the end of the day that there were at war with is Christianity ultimately. And many of these name Christianity as that oppressive hegemonic power. Some of the main textbooks for examples, for critical pedagogy, name Christianity as an oppressive hegemonic power. So it's not just white people, it's not just white males. Christianity is also on that list.
